INTRODUCTION

Congratulations!

You've gained a Girl Guides Australia boating module!

So that you can continue to have fun on the water and in the outdoors, it is a requirement that GGA Outdoor modules are endorsed every three years. An Outdoor Skills Assessor who holds the Instruct and Assess module will complete this with you. She will want to see:

- ▶ a current Provide First Aid certificate or equivalent or higher;
- ▶ log showing an average of twenty hours of activities per year, totalling sixty hours over three years. This must include a minimum of ten hours on the water but can include up to ten hours of preparation and instruction time in each twelve month period;
- ▶ a risk management plan for a recent activity; and
- ▶ demonstration of current techniques and rescue skills.

If you do not meet endorsement criteria, you cannot conduct boating activities.

For each successful endorsement, the Outdoor Skills Assessor will complete the "Completion of Module" form (found at the back of each module) and forward to your State Office.

This log has been created as a record of what is required to fulfil the basic requirements of the GGA boating qualifications. If you use your qualifications for other organisations, you may like to add additional columns or ensure that the records you keep for them include the information contained within this document.

Please use a different page for each qualification.
