

Woggle making

1. Fold the cord in half, loop the middle of it over your fingers, and let the end not in use hang down. In the drawings, the working end is always marked W and the end not in use is shown with a knot.
2. Take the working end up over the non-working end.
3. Carry the working end round the fingers and up again.
4. Take it over loop B and under loop A.
5. Pull loop B over loop A and bring the third finger up to hold it in place.
6. Take the working end back over B and under A.
7. Pull the length through. Repeat steps 3 to 7.
8. Turn the knot round on your fingers then take the working end forward over B and under A again.
9. Pull the length through.
10. Bring B forward over A again and hold it.
11. Take the working end back over B and under A—that is the first round completed.
12. Twist the knot round on your fingers to bring the two ends close together.
13. Now all you have to do is push the working end under the loop, side by side with the non-working end and keeping to the right hand side of the cord always follow the under and over workings of the cord until you have two strands lying side by side all round. Then, if you have enough cord, go round again to make a three stranded woggle.
14. When you come to the end of the working end, turn the woggle round and continue the weaving with the other end.
