

Learning Partner Workbook

Outdoors Leader Focus

Learning Partner Workbook

Purpose

This workbook is for an experienced Leader to learn how to be a Learning Partner, which enables them to assist new Outdoor Leaders to gain their qualification.

This Learning Partner workbook records what you must do to become a Learning Partner. It also acts as a complete record of the learning, reading or activities you have undertaken. As such it is an important document to guide you through the process.

Before you begin

Hold a Leadership Qualification. You must hold a current primary leadership appointment as a Unit Leader or Outdoors Leader to be able to be a Learning Partner for an Outdoors Leader. If you hold a Unit Leader appointment it is recommended that you have significant experience in the Outdoors to be able to work with an Outdoors Leader.

Process:

A Leader wishing to be a Learning Partner should

- Discuss with their district or Region Manager about the supplementary role of Learning Partner. It is possible to complete the learning before having this discussion, but so much better if you are motivated with a clear vision of the volunteer role you will be doing
- Print this booklet, contact a Trainer to arrange a 1:1 session
- Complete the reading, then at the session do the training, activities and reflection exercises

How can I show I've completed activities?

You will participate in activities at a training session. The Trainer will work with you to complete all the activities. Tick them off as you go!

Who is available to support me?

State Trainers will support you to become ready for the role. Your Manager is responsible for recommending that you take on this supplementary role and completing your Annual Role Review which will include a discussion of both your primary role and this supplementary role.

Your Manager is the essential extra person who supports new Leaders and works with you to enable them to complete all the activities in their Passport and sign off clauses as they show competence.

So just what does a Learning Partner do?

The next page lists the steps for a new Outdoor Leader to become qualified. The process is very similar if you are assisting a Unit Leader or District Manager gain her relevant qualification too, but these are dealt with in other equivalent booklets.

We want you to start thinking from the perspective of the new Leader or Manager you will be working with. Can you remember how this was for you?

Your part of the process is highlighted in red.

Steps for a new Outdoors Leader to become qualified

Beginning as a 'not yet qualified' Outdoors Leader

1. New Outdoors Leaders have usually had some contact with Girl Guides, either through their own experience, their daughter or maybe a friend is a Leader. Alternatively they may be returning to Guides or changing roles, and have previous experience as a Unit Helper, Unit Leader or Manager.
2. Helpful information for new Leaders is available at <https://www.girlguides.org.au/join-guides/as-a-volunteer/as-an-adult/> on the website. As a Learning Partner it will be useful for you to be familiar with this document. You may be able to get a copy from your State or Territory Girl Guide office.
3. The next step is for the NYQ Outdoors Leader to meet with her District Manager (or Region Manager). She will find out what roles interest her and her level of commitment. Ideally she will visit a Unit or outdoor event and meet with the current leadership team.
4. Once she has made the decision to become a qualified Outdoors Leader she will need to complete an application for membership if she is not already a member. Your Manager will organise this. The application form is also available on the State or Territory website to download.
5. The State or Territory Girl Guide Office may send a New Leader's pack to the new Outdoors Leader. This will include her Passport, or the Passport can be downloaded and printed from the GGA website. The District/Region Manager will arrange to meet with the 'NYQ' Outdoors Leader to kick off the first stage of Induction.
6. The District Manager will appoint you as a Learning Partner for the 'NYQ' Outdoors Leader. Some Learning Partners are appointed at Region or State level as well. From now on, your role will be to support her through her learning.
7. Meet with the new Outdoors Leader and design her Learning Plan to achieve the Leadership Qualification and record this plan on the pages of her Passport. This process will include reviewing any previous experience with Guiding and any professional skills which may exempt her from some aspects of the learning process. The Learning Plan will include the date/s of the training she needs to attend and the activities she needs to complete to qualify as an Outdoors Leader.

Working through Outdoors Leadership Qualification

8. The new Outdoors Leader will read the relevant chapters of the Leader's Handbook for each module and record this reading has been completed on the relevant pages of her Passport.
9. She will participate in the Guiding Orientation webinar if she has no previous experience of Guiding. The Guiding Orientation webinar covers the content of the first module: Being part of Guiding in Australia. The dates of these webinars are listed on the Girl Guides Australia website and are generally held about every fortnight.
10. The new Outdoors Leader can complete the activities for each of the four modules in any order.
 - Ask her to note the relevant evidence on the activities grid for each module and keep the evidence together for each module to make it easier for you to review.
 - Each passport activity needs to be signed off by a qualified Leader who has held an active leadership role in the last three years. Some activities must be signed off by either you the Learning Partner or a Manager or a Trainer.
 - Once she has completed all activities for one of the modules, she will fill out the reflection box which asks what she has learned from completing these activities. You may choose to do this together or she may do this first and then discuss it with you.

- Periodically check on her progress as she works through the modules. Touching base at least every month is great.

11. Assist the new Outdoors Leader to attend First Aid training and Outdoors Leadership Qualification training (as required)

Appointment as Outdoors Leader

12. When all the activities are complete, meet with your 'not yet qualified' Outdoors Leader to finalise this stage of her learning. Sample the evidence collected and talk to some of the Leaders who have signed the activities. You need to ensure that the Learning Plan has been completed.

13. Sign the confirmation on the Qualification and Appointment form.

14. Your District or Region Manager will finalise the Learning Passport and confirm the appointment.

After all these steps, you will have helped a new person become a qualified Outdoors Leader!

Learning Styles and the ALQP

This section explores how adult learning should take place – a little different from attending school as a child, and more like the non-formal learning of girls in Guiding. You will receive recognition of prior learning (RPL) for Clause 1 if you hold a formal qualification in education, psychology or similar.

Activity to complete at your training session:	Tick as you complete
1. Different learning styles Take part in a discussion on your own learning style and how to cater for people who learn differently
2. Roles and qualifications Demonstrate awareness of all the primary and supplementary roles and their relevant qualifications

Qualification Passports

This section explores your role in enabling adult members to become qualified Outdoors Leaders.

Reading and activities to complete and discuss at your training session:	Tick as you complete
Attend a Guiding Orientation webinar
Outdoors Leadership Qualification Passport

Activity to complete at your training session:	Tick as you complete
1. Your role Take part in a discussion on your role and the other people who support a new member
2. Passport format Identify the different sections of an Outdoors Leadership Passport and how they are used

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In order to tailor a learning pathway so it meets a member's needs and to ensure she doesn't have to repeat any activities or training unnecessarily, you will identify areas where requirements have already been met. This process is formally known as Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). Through this process you are able to give exemptions for many things

This section explores your role in RPL.

Action to complete and bring to discuss at your training session:	Tick as you complete
Print a copy of the ALQP Passport Guidance notes for the Outdoors Leadership Qualification or have an online copy available

Activity to complete at your training session:	Tick as you complete
1. RPL Explain a number of examples of RPL you are likely to encounter
2. Filling in RPL in the Passport Identify the different sections of an Outdoors Leadership Passport where RPL can be recorded and fill them in for a particular scenario

Skills to enable Leaders to succeed

This section is about effective communication, setting realistic timeframes and tailoring the Passport to meet the individual needs of a new member. There are many ways that a little planning and discussion of concerns can allow a member to be successful. Discuss receiving RPL with your Trainer where you already have these skills.

Activity to complete at your training session:	Tick as you complete
1. Listening & questioning Take part in activities to practice effective communication skills
2. Forms of evidence Identify the different ways that evidence of competence can be organised
3. Learning Plans Complete a scenario to fill in a learning plan and set realistic timeframes, including becoming familiar with the table p10 of the Passport
4. Tailoring needs Use appropriate skills to identify underlying concerns or issues
5. Tailoring needs List alternative activities to meet individual circumstances e.g. location, disability, unit size

Meetings

This section explores how and when and why to catch up and work through progress in the adult member's passport.

Activity to complete at your training session:	Tick as you complete
1. Your role Take part in a discussion on ways to arrange and manage meetings between a not yet qualified Outdoors Leader and yourself
2. Quality assurance Identify examples of evidence that is appropriate or not sufficient for passport clauses
3. Coaching Take the coaching role in a scenario where a new member needs coaching i.e. what to say when evidence is not sufficient

Optional reading and activities you may choose:	Tick as you complete
www.girlguides.org.au/australian-learning-qualification-program/learning-topics
Management skills – Problem Solving
Management skills – Supporting Others
Management skills - Communication
Management skills - Coaching

Signing off Passports

This section explores your role in signing off learning in the passport and the final steps by your Manager to complete a qualification and appointment form.

Activity to complete at your training session:	Tick as you complete
1. Your role Identify ways to check that the Passport is completed at an appropriate quality
2. Processes Identify the steps for completion of the Passport

Reflection on learning

What do you think will be the biggest challenges you will have as a Learning Partner?

What are you most looking forward to in your role as a Learning Partner?

All done!

Meet with your Manager to discuss your appointment.